The Horizon Index Fund

The Rationale for Index Investing

- Index funds are a way of gaining diversified exposure to the overall cryptocurrency and digital asset markets.
- Investing in a broad representation of tokens in a market index can provide efficient diversification and reduce risk.
- Buying and holding a broad market index over the long - term reduces volatility and investment costs and can lead to better returns in the long run.

The Challenge

- Crypto assets are complex to trade and hold, often requiring multiple exchanges and multiple wallets to achieve spread
- Considerable counterparty risks exist
- Digital Assets are extremely volatile and trading requires constant attention Most digital asset funds are based overseas and based in US dollars.
- 85% of the total industry capitalisation is held in just 25 tokens - the 80/20 rule applies

The Solution

- Gain broad market exposure by investment in the Horizon Equally Weighted Index Fund
- Australian based, Australian regulated and denominated in Australian Dollars.
- For sophisticated Australian investors, the minimum investment A$50,000.

The Portal Horizon Index Fund Characteristics

- An unhedged, passively managed index-tracking portfolio offering broad exposure to the top cryptocurrencies, DeFi and Smart Contract tokens.
- Diversified exposure to the broader digital asset landscape and most cutting edge blockchain projects maintained via monthly rebalancing.
- Low costs (3% management fee) and volatility in line with the market.
- Although the portfolio is passively managed, the strategy benefits from the research conducted on the actively managed Portal Global Opportunities Fund to avoid tokens deemed high risk..
